

Métis Nation Homeland Map

The Métis Nation has a generational Homeland that includes what is known today as: parts of the southern Northwest Territories; parts of Ontario; Manitoba; Saskatchewan; Alberta; parts of British Columbia; parts of northern Montana; parts of North Dakota; and parts of Minnesota, USA.

Métis ancestry, history, culture, and languages are rooted in these lands.

