

CHRISTI

Belcourt

Rupertsland
Institute
History, Culture and Environment

CHRISTI Belcourt

Christi Belcourt is a prominent Métis artist and advocate known for her significant contributions to Indigenous art and cultural preservation. Belcourt's work is celebrated for its vibrant, intricate beadwork and its profound connections to Métis heritage and identity. Belcourt's contributions have been recognized with numerous awards and accolades, affirming her status as a leading figure in Canadian art and Indigenous cultural advocacy. Her legacy is marked by her dedication to both her craft and her community, continuing to influence and inspire future generations.

“We are resilient as a weed and beautiful as a wildflower. We have much to celebrate and be proud of.”

-Belcourt, n.d.

